I apologize for my words yesterday. They were poorly chosen and untrue. We shouldn't be treating each other like this. I'm not going to engage in that sort of behavior again.

No.. you said exactly how you see me and feel about me. I believe every feeling you said about how you feel about me in those texts. It can never be undone.

no.. I said untrue things to hurt you because I was in a really bad place.. and have been for some time. I am absolutely ashamed of myself for the things that I said. I absolutely apologize for it.. all of it. I succumbed to the pressure of everything and blew.. and you are the last person I should have directed it at. you didn't deserve it.. I've let you down immensely... I should have just went to you and talked... I need someone to talk to... I need you to talk to.

forgive me.
